Ὀραση

Inspired by Optical Illusion

"Ὀραση" refers to "vision" or "sight," which is the ability to perceive the external world through the eyes. This term is used in Greek to describe everything related to vision. It comes from the Greek verb "βλέπω" (vlépo), meaning "to see."

People tend to believe what they see, but in reality, our eyes can deceive us.

WHAT IS OPTICAL ILLUSION

There is a proverb which says, "Seeing is believing." We believe that eyes are windows that allow us to glimpse the world and assist the brain in constructing detailed, colourful, and dynamic 3D images of our surroundings. However, research has found that when there is a conflict between our senses and brain, they fill in gaps or creates a fictitious image.

It is a fact of neuroscience that our speed of evaluating the world can be faster than our actual speed of observing the world, leading to biases and errors, which can result in a distorted perception of things ourselves.

PATTERN DESIGN (LASER CUT)

The pattern design references the body structure of insects and the textures of plants, incorporating diamond shapes and linear forms along with wavy lines as the main elements of the design.

SWATCHES DEVELOPMENT

At the same time, knitted fabric is chosen to create original patterns, as the knitted material is made from recycled natural wool fibers.

The fabric pieces of the skirt are connected together with a cord, making the overall design adjustable in size while also serving as a design detail.
