

DANISH MODERN

1949 s

Throughout the production period spanning 1949 to present day, the Chieftain chair underwent several design and construction changes. Some changes were more subtle than others, and not all aesthetic changes were for the better.

Functionality. Characteristic of the Mid - century Modern.

Chieftain Chair, Designed by Finn Juhl in 1949

SCANDINAVIAN MINIMALISM
ELEGANT SIMPLICITY
FROM FOLLOWS FUNCTION

One of the major differences of the Chieftain chair under the production Niels Roth Andersen's shop was the fiberglass arms. According to NRA cabinetmaker Torkel Milling, fiberglass was the material used before NRA began making the chair, so it was continued with once NRA began production.